

TAKING MEDICINE TO PREVENT STROKE

It's a no-brainer!

An irregular heartbeat known as atrial fibrillation can cause blood clots and increase the risk of stroke five-fold

Anticoagulant medicine helps prevent blood clots and reduce the risk of stroke by up to 70%

Anticoagulants have been safely used by millions of people, with stroke prevention benefits far outweighing the risk of side-effects, including bleeding

HAVE YOU DONE ALL YOU CAN TO PREVENT STROKE?

find out more at

www.hearts4heart.org.au

